

Vaginal Rejuvenation

A lot of the focus in anti-aging is put on our faces, followed by other areas of the body like the chest, abs, or maybe bottom. But what about the vaginal area, which also feels the effects of aging and could equally benefit from rejuvenating treatments? We've recognized that women may be affected by a variety of vaginal issues from no longer liking the look and feel of the area to functional problems like dryness, discomfort, or fewer orgasms. Understanding the importance of feeling confident everywhere, we offer multiple non-surgical treatments to restore vaginal well-being.

For each of these restorative treatments, no surgery or downtime is required!

- Greenwich Medical Spa is recognized as an Expert Injector and Top Doctor by New Beauty magazine.
- We specialize in treatments that encourage the body's own healing processes to provide natural-looking results.
- As a woman-owned business, Greenwich Medical Spa inspires confidence and champions women.

THERMIVA®

- If you are experiencing vaginal dryness, stress incontinence, discomfort during sex, or vaginal laxity, ThermiVa can restore your feminine well-being.
- This simple, non-invasive treatment uses controlled radiofrequency to heat vaginal tissue, causing an increase in collagen production.
- Thanks to its ability to encourage your body to produce more collagen, ThermiVa promotes vaginal tightness, increases blood flow, boosts vaginal moisture, and tightens external vaginal tissues.
- ThermiVa requires no downtime and is a comfortable procedure.
- You'll notice improvement from the first treatment, although we recommend a series of three.

- If you are unhappy with wrinkling and laxity in this area, V-Lift offers a non-surgical solution.
- Our V-Lift treatment uses a dermal filler like Juvéderm or Voluma to add volume back to the outer vaginal lips.
- Greenwich Medical Spa clinicians have hundreds of hours of extra training in performing safe injections.
- Results from V-Lift can last up to 2 years.

V-SHOT

Are you ready for the ultimate orgasm?

- If you have been having difficulty climaxing, know that as we age, give birth, or go through menopause, vaginal function diminishes. But you can bring it back with V-Shot.
- The actual culprit for your elusive orgasm is decreased blood flow and cell turnover and the solution is an injection of growth factors from your own blood right into your vaginal area.
- After V-Shot, women experience increased blood flow, renewed sensitivity, and more orgasms, as well as decreased vaginal looseness, dryness, and stress incontinence. Sounds like a win-win.
- For most women, one V-Shot is all it takes followed up a maintenance shot about once a year.
